MACHINERY HALL.

The Palace of Mechanic Arts measures, with 500 feet extension, 1,350x500 feet, and with the Machinery Annex and Power House cost about $1,200,000. It is located at the extreme south end of the park, midway between the shores of Lake Michigan and the west line of the park. It is just south of the Administration Building, and west and across a lagoon from the Agriculture Building. The building is spanned by three arched trusses, and the interior presents the appearance of three railroad train-houses side by side, surrounded on all the four sides by a gallery 50 feet wide. In each of the long naves there is an elevated traveling crane running from end to end of the building for the purpose of moving machinery. These platforms are built so that visitors may view from them the exhibits beneath. The power from this building is supplied from a power house adjoining the south side of the building. This is the largest power plant in the world, consisting of boilers of the largest size, capable of producing 24,000 horse-power. This power is, for the most part, converted by immense dynamos into electric energy, which is distributed by a system of underground galleries and conduits to the large buildings, the electric lights and the electric trolleys. Two of these dynamos, of a capacity of 10,000 lights each, are run by the great Allis engine, which is twice as large as the world's wonder of Philadelphia. Of the 24,000 horse-power, developed, 17,000 horse-power is devoted to electricity. The boilers are supplied with oil for fuel instead of coal, which is piped direct from the Indiana oil fields to the receiving tanks at Jackson Park.

KEY TO INSTALLATION.

The exhibits in the Department of Machinery are installed in Machinery Hall proper, the Power Station, Pump House, Machine Shop, Saw Mill Building, Boiler House Extension, Oil Pump House, and in an out-of-door space near the main building. In the location of exhibits in the catalogue entries, the following abbreviations are used: "PP." Power Plant; "PS." Power Station; "PH." Pump House; "MS." Machine Shop; "IDS." Out Door Space; "LS." Line Shaft; "SMB." Saw Mill; "BH." Boiler House; "HE." Boiler House Extension; "OPH." Oil Pump House; "FEH." Fire Engine House; "PH of E. Ry." Power House of Elevated Railway; "MP." Midway Plaisance; "LS. Ry." Barre Sliding Railway; "W. D. R. R." Western Dummy Railroad; "SCW." Wage Cleansing Works.

The power plant, adjoining the main building, is divided into sections lettered from "A" to "O." The boiler house, on the south, has six numbered divisions, and the divisions of boiler house extension are numbered from "A" to "E." The east end of the main building is occupied by foreign countries, their various locations being indicated on the floor plan in the catalogue. The main building is divided into numbered sections, as indicated in the catalogue. The columns are lettered from south to north, from "A" to "T," and from east to west are numbered from 1 to 53. Hence, each column bears both a letter and a number. An exhibit located in the catalogue at "28-N-46" is in section 28, near the post or column lettered "N" on the north and south line, and 46 on the east and west line.

DEPARTMENT F.

MACHINERY.

GROUP 69.

MOTORS AND APPARATUS FOR THE GENERATION AND TRANSMISSION OF POWER— HYDRAULIC AND PNEUMATIC APPARATUS.

- Class 413. Boilers and all steam or gas generating apparatus for motive purposes. Feed water heaters, furnaces and patent grate bars, patent stokers, and steam pipe covering.
- Class 414. Water wheels, water engines, hydraulic rams.
- Class 415. Steam, air and gas engines. Piston packing and parts of engine.
- Class 416. Apparatus for the transmission of power—shafting, hangers, belting, pulleys, couplings, clutches, cables, gearing. Transmission of power by compressed air, etc.
- Class 417. Pumps and apparatus for lifting and moving liquids, water filters. (See also Department E.)
- Class 418. Pumps and apparatus for moving and compressing air or gas. (See also Department E.)
- Class 419. Pumps and blowing engines, blowers and ventilating apparatus. (See also Department E.)
- Class 420. Hydraulic presses, freight elevators and lifts. Traveling cranes and derricks. (See also Department E.)
- Class 421. Beer engines, soda water machines, bottling apparatus, corking machines. (See also Department A.)
- Class 422. Iron and other metallic pipes, tubes and fittings, stop valves, gauges, cocks, etc.
- Class 423. Diving apparatus and machinery.
- Class 424. Ice machines, Refrigerating apparatus.

GROUP 70.

FIRE ENGINES—APPARATUS AND APPLIANCES FOR EXTINGUISHING FIRE.

- Class 425. Engines.
- Class 426. Hose-carts and hose.
- Class 427. Ladders and escapes.
- Class 428. Standpipes, etc.
- Class 429. Chemical fire-extinguishing apparatus.

GROUP 71.

MACHINE TOOLS AND MACHINES FOR WORKING METALS.

- Class 430. Small tools for machinists' use, drills, taps and dies, gauges, etc.
- Class 431. Squares, rules and measuring tools.
- Class 432. Steam hammers, trip-hammers, drop forging and swaging machines, hydraulic forging, etc.
- Class 433. Planing, drilling, slotting, turning, shaping, milling, punching and cutting machines. Wheel-cutting and dividing machines.

GROUP 72.

MACHINERY FOR THE MANUFACTURE OF TEXTILE FABRICS AND CLOTHING.

- Class 434. Machines for the manufacture of silk goods.
- Class 435. Machines for the manufacture of cotton goods.
- Class 436. Machines for the manufacture of woolen goods.
- Class 437. Worsted working machinery and appliances.
- Class 438. Machines for the manufacture of linen goods.
- Class 439. Machines for the manufacture of rope and for twine-making and for miscellaneous fibrous materials.
- Class 440. Machines for paper-making and felting.
- Class 441. Machines for the manufacture of India-rubber goods.
- Class 442. Machines for the manufacture of mixed fabrics. Knitting machines and cloth-cutting machinery.
- Class 443. Machines used in the manufacture of tapestry, including carpets, lace, floor-cloth, fancy embroidery, etc.
- Class 444. Sewing machines for heavy materials and for family work.
- Class 445. Machines for preparing and working leather.
- Class 446. Machines for making boots and shoes.

GROUP 73.

MACHINES FOR WORKING WOOD.

(See also Departments A and E.)

- Class 447. Direct-acting steam sawing machines, with gang saws, band saws, circular saws.
- Class 448. Sawmills and sawmill tools.
Wood-working machinery for sawmills.
Wood-working tools and minor appliances for sawmills.
- Class 449. Planing, sawing, veneering, grooving, mortising, tonguing, cutting, molding, stamping, carving and cask-making machines, etc.; cork-cutting machines.
Lathes for woodwork and machinery for the manufacture of matches, tooth-picks, etc.

GROUP 74.

MACHINES AND APPARATUS FOR TYPESETTING, PRINTING, STAMPING, EMBOSsing AND FOR MAKING BOOKS AND PAPER WORKING.

- Class 450. Steam-power presses.
- Class 451. Hand-printing presses.
- Class 452. Job presses.
- Class 453. Hydraulic presses.
- Class 454. Ticket printing and numbering machines.
- Class 455. Type casting and setting machines. Linotypes.
- Class 456. Hand-casting molds.
- Class 457. Machines and printing blocks.
- Class 458. Typographic electrotyping.
- Class 459. Stereotyping.
- Class 460. Book-binding machinery.
- Class 461. Envelope machines.
- Class 462. Paper-cutters, card-cutters and paper box machinery.
- Class 463. Printers' cabinets and printers' furniture generally.
- Class 464. Composing sticks, cases.
- Class 465. Brass and type-metal labor-saving appliances.
- Class 466. Specimens of plain and ornamental types, cuts, music, borders and electrotyping plates.
- Class 467. Type-founders' specimen books of type and typographical ornaments.
- Class 468. Miscellaneous machinery used by printers and newspapers not otherwise specified. Folding machines, addressing, stamping, embossing, etc.

GROUP 75.

LITHOGRAPHY, ZINCOGRAPHY AND COLOR PRINTING.

- Class 469. Lithography—tools, materials and appliances. The various methods of lithography, crayon, pen and ink; engraving, brush work, color printing, etc. Transferring, printing. Zinco-graphy.
- Class 470. Color printing—historical illustrations from the 16th century to the present time. (Relief engraving. The old chiaro-oscuro. Modern wood-engravings. The Baxter process. Intaglio engraving, printed at one impression; i. e., from the plate rubbed in different colors; printed from several plates. Stenochromy, chromo-lithography. Wax process, etc. The modern photo-mechanical processes applied to color printing.)

- Class 471. Relief processes—photo-mechanical processes producing relief blocks for printing in the type-press (etching, swell-gelatine and washout processes). Line processes (photo-typographic etchings, photo-gravures, etc.).
- Class 472. Half-toned processes—gelatine green processes. (Paul Pretsch's and later.) Screen processes. (Meisenbach, etc.) The Ives process.
- Class 473. Photo-lithography, etc.—photo-mechanical processes involving the production of printable designs on stone or zinc; i. e., photo-lithography and photo-zinco-graphy. Half-toned processes (the Bitumen process, Poitevin's process, Asser's process, etc.). Recent grain processes. Screen processes. Line processes. (Osborne's process.)
- Class 474. Collographic processes—photo-mechanical processes, involving the production of gelatine or other glutinous films, to be used as printing surfaces in the lithographic press; i. e., collographic or photo-gelatine processes (albertype, heliotype, artotype, etc.).
- Class 475. Photo-mechanical processes—producing intaglio plates for printing in the copperplate press; i. e., photo-gravure. Etching processes, deposit processes, heliotypes, heliogravures, etc. The Woodbury type-molds and impressions.
- Class 476. Mechanical processes—partly chemical, partly mechanical, devised as substitutes for the other hand processes, but not involving photography. Chalcotype, Comte process, Gillot process, etching in relief, typographic etching, properly so-called (chemotype, the graphotype, kaolitype), the wax process and allied processes (glyphography, kerography, stylography, typographic etching, improperly so-called, etc.). Machine relief engraving, machine intaglio engraving (medal rufing), galvanography, stenochromy, mineralography, nature printing, the anastatic process, etc. Appendix. Etching on glass (improperly so-called, which involves photography, but not the use of the press).
- Class 477. Drawings for process work.
- Class 478. Aids to drawing for process work (used by lithographers and draughtsmen). Grained and embossed papers. Pasting tints. The air brush. Day's shading mediums, etc. Methods of reducing and enlarging. Photo-mechanical processes.
- Class 479. Applications of the photo-mechanical processes in the industrial arts—printing on metal work, cloth, etc.

GROUP 77.

MISCELLANEOUS HAND-TOOLS, MACHINES AND APPARATUS USED IN VARIOUS ARTS.

- Class 480. Machines for making clocks, watches and watch-cases.
- Class 481. Machines for making jewelry.
- Class 482. Machines for making buttons, pins, needles, etc.
- Class 483. Wire-working machinery.
- Class 484. Machines for ironing, drying, scouring and laundry work generally; also dish washing machinery.
- Class 485. Machines for making capsules and other pharmaceutical products.

- Class 486. Machines used in various manufacturing industries not specifically mentioned. Among them soap-making machinery and barrel-washing machinery.
 Class 487. Emerald and corundum wheels.
 Class 488. Street rollers, sweepers and sprinklers.
 Class 489. Steam gauges, oil cocks and all kinds of appliances used in connection with machinery.
 Class 490. For testing the strength of materials. Dynamometers.

GROUP 78.

MACHINES FOR WORKING STONE, CLAY AND OTHER MINERALS.

(See also Department E.)

- Class 491. Stone-sawing and planing machines, dressing, shaping and polishing, sand blasts, Tilghman's machines, glass-grinding machines, etc.
 Class 492. Brick, pottery and tile machines. Machines for making artificial stone.
 Class 493. Rolling-mills and forges—roll trains, hammers, squeezers, engines, boilers and other driving power; heating furnaces (coal and gas), special machines for shaping metal, such as spike, nail and horseshoe machines; tire mills, etc.

GROUP 79.

MACHINERY USED IN THE PREPARATION OF FOODS, ETC.

- Class 494. Mills for the preparation of cereals.
 Class 495. Sugar-refining machines; Confectioners' machinery.
 Class 496. Oil-making machinery; presses and stills.
 Class 497. Mills and machinery for spices, coffee, etc.
 Class 498. Evaporating machinery for condensing milk, etc.

How to Find Exhibitors and Their Exhibits.

The list of exhibitors from the United States will be found in the first portion of this catalogue, the foreign countries with their exhibits installed in Machinery Hall following in alphabetical order. Each country has its exhibits numbered consecutively, and as far as practicable each exhibit has a card attached to it bearing the name of the country and the words "Official Catalogue Number" and that number corresponds with the number in this Catalogue. For example, if a card is found with the following matter thereon:

Department F. Machinery.
United States.
Official Catalogue Number 11

the visitor will turn to 11 in the United States portion of the Catalogue where will be found the following entry:

11. Ashton Valve Co., Boston.
Valves and gauges. 26-M-27 422

It may be that the visitor's attention is first directed to the Catalogue and he may be desirous of finding this exhibit. The first thing he should do is to see what the location is. That being 26-M-27 he will refer to the Key of Installation, which states that the main building is divided into numbered sections as shown on the plan, and that the columns running north and south are lettered from "A" to "T" and from east to west are numbered 1 to 31, each column bearing both a letter and a number. The exhibit therefore of the Ashton Valve Co. will be found in section 26 near the post or column lettered M on the north and south line and 27 on the east and west line; or in other words, the exhibit can be located in section 26 at the corner of "M and 27th streets."

The class number 422 serves many purposes, and one especially. A visitor, for instance would like to see all the exhibits of valves and gauges in Machinery Hall. He immediately turns to the classification grouping, where he will read in group 69, class 422 the following: "Iron and other metallic pipes, tubes and fittings, stop valves, gauges, cocks, etc." He immediately turns to the list of exhibitors under group 69 and by glancing down the right hand side for 422 finds all exhibitors alphabetically arranged who are exhibiting valves and gauges and other articles enumerated in that class.

This rule applies to every exhibit in the Machinery Department, whatever its character may be, and by following the above plan the visitor will experience no difficulty in locating the exhibitor or his exhibit.

No attention should be paid to any numbers which may be affixed to exhibits except those appearing on cards in the form given above

TRANSPORTATION BUILDING.

The main building measures 960 feet front by 256 deep. From this extends westward to Stony Island avenue an annex covering about nine acres. The total floor space devoted to this department, including galleries, annexes, special buildings, etc., is nearly twenty acres. This annex is one story in height. The building is simple, but peculiar in its architecture, and the exterior is decorated in an elaborate manner in polychrome. In general style it savors of the Romanesque. The main entrance to the building consists of an immense single arch, enriched to an extraordinary degree with carvings and bas-reliefs. The interior of the building is treated after the manner of a Roman basilica, with broad nave and aisles. The cupola placed exactly in the center of the building rises 165 feet above the ground and is reached by eight elevators. The building cost about $500,000. Architects, Adler & Sullivan, of Chicago.

There are three general divisions of exhibits in this department: The railway, marine and the vehicle divisions. For the most part the railway exhibits will be found in the large annex which was built especially for heavy exhibits of this character. The vehicle exhibits occupy the northern end of the main building and the annex; the marine exhibits, a portion of the southern-central part of the main building and the southern portion of the east gallery; the bicycle and saddlery exhibits, the northern gallery. The exhibits of each foreign country are, however, grouped in one location, thus interfering materially with the general plan of distribution.

On entering the building at the golden door, the visitor finds first at his right the exhibit of Great Britain. The English railway exhibit is located in the annex in Sections U and V. North of the British exhibit will be found those of Canada, Brazil, Mexico and a portion of that of Spain. Then come some important American railway exhibits and the American vehicle section.

Returning again to the golden door, the visitor turning to the left will observe the French section, including a large display of fine vehicles and railway machinery.

Immediately to the south of the French space will be found the exhibits of Russia, Austria, Turkey, Spain and Japan. Following these, to the south, is the principal portion of the American marine exhibit. The entire south end of the main building and the annex is devoted to the great exhibit of the German empire.

The main portion of the annex, from the English exhibit in Section U to the German exhibit in Section G, is occupied by a vast collection of American cars, locomotives and railway appliances of every possible description, and a considerable portion of the main building is also devoted to railways.

Beginning at the north and occupying very nearly the center of the annex is the exhibit prepared by the Baltimore & Ohio Railway Co., known as "The Railways of the World." To the south of this is an exhibit of two trains of Pullman palace cars. Following this exhibit are passenger cars, various forms of freight, street and tram cars and an exceedingly large variety of locomotives representing every locomotive building establishment in the United States but two.

The gallery, or entresol floor of the main building, is large and excellently lighted. It is accessible by six staircases and six elevators scattered at intervals under the gallery. The southern end of the gallery is occupied by a comprehensive exhibit by the associated engineering societies of Germany. The southern portion of the east gallery is devoted to marine, and the northern to bicycles. The north end of gallery is devoted to saddlery. The northwestern gallery belongs to the British section and contains bicycles and interesting loan exhibits. The southwestern gallery includes the marine and engineering divisions of the French section, the Netherlands and the Cape of Good Hope.

The large exhibits of the New York Central Railroad and the Wagner Palace Car Co. are south of the Annex, and the extensive exhibit of the Pennsylvania Railroad is still farther south across the street leading to the 64th street entrance. Both of these companies have beautiful and expensive buildings, besides their out-of-doors exhibit.

At the north end of the Horticultural Building is the exhibit of the White Star Line. The exhibit of Krupp, Essen, Germany, consisting of railway and naval material and heavy ordnance, is located in a special building on the lake shore at the southwestern portion of the grounds, between the Convent of La Rabida and the Leather and Shoe Trades Building.

1. Chlorophyll a (Chl a) is the primary photosynthetic pigment in most plants and algae. It is a green pigment that absorbs light energy in the blue and red regions of the visible spectrum.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for transparency and accountability, particularly in financial matters.

2. The second part outlines the various methods and tools used to collect and analyze data. This includes the use of surveys, interviews, and statistical software to ensure that the information gathered is reliable and valid.

3. The third part focuses on the ethical considerations surrounding data collection and analysis. It highlights the need to protect individual privacy and ensure that data is used responsibly and for its intended purpose.

4. The fourth part discusses the challenges faced in conducting research, such as limited resources, time constraints, and potential biases. It offers strategies to overcome these challenges and maintain the integrity of the research process.

5. The fifth part provides a summary of the findings and conclusions drawn from the research. It reiterates the importance of thorough documentation and the need for ongoing evaluation and improvement of research practices.

6. The final part of the document includes a list of references and a glossary of key terms, ensuring that all necessary information is accessible to the reader.

How to Find Exhibitors and Their Exhibits.

The list of exhibitors from the United States will be found in the first portion of this catalogue, the foreign countries with their exhibits installed in Transportation Building following in alphabetical order. Each country has its exhibits numbered consecutively, and as far as practicable each exhibit has a card attached to it bearing the name of the country and the words "Official Catalogue Number," and that number corresponds with the number in this Catalogue. For example, if a card is found with the following matter thereon:

Department G.                      Transportation.
United States.

Official Catalogue Number 210

the visitor will turn to 210 in the United States portion of the Catalogue where will be found the following entry:

210. Smillie Coupler & Manufacturing Co.,
Newark, N. J. Car coupler. P-S-2 500

It may be that the visitor's attention is first directed to the Catalogue and he may be desirous of finding this exhibit. The first thing he should do is to see what the location is. That being P-S-2 he will refer to the Key of Installation, which states that the Transportation Building and Annex are divided into sections, lettered from "A" to "Z," section "A" being at the north end of the Annex, section "B" at the north end of the main building, sections "C" and "D" forming the central court, and "E" at the south end of the main building. The remaining sections are in the Annex, and consist of aisles running the length of the Annex. Along each aisle is a row of posts, numbered, and the sides of the aisles are indicated as "north" and "south." The exhibit therefore of the Smillie Coupler & Manufacturing Co. will be found in the Annex, on the south side of aisle P at post numbered 2, or in other words, the exhibit can be located in the Annex at the corner of "P and 2d streets."

The class number 500 serves many purposes, and one especially. A visitor, for instance, would like to see all the exhibits of couplers in Transportation Building. He immediately turns to the classification grouping, where he will read in group 80, class 500 the following: Railway equipment—locomotives for passenger and freight service. Locomotive appliances—headlights, bells, whistles, brake valves, car-couplers and apparatus, etc. He immediately turns to the list of exhibitors under group 80 and by glancing down the left hand side for 500 finds all exhibitors alphabetically arranged who are exhibiting car couplers and other articles enumerated in that class.

This rule applies to every exhibit in the Transportation Building, whatever its character may be, and by following the above plan the visitor will experience no difficulty in locating the exhibitor or his exhibit.

DEPARTMENT G.

TRANSPORTATION—RAILWAYS, VESSELS, VEHICLES.

GROUP 80.

RAILWAYS, RAILWAY PLANT AND EQUIPMENT.

- Class 499. Railway construction and maintenance—maps, profiles, etc. Grading, track-laying and ballasting machinery. Samples of Standard Permanent Way. Systems of drainage. Ballast, culverts, ties, methods of preserving ties. Rails, rail fastenings, frogs, crossings, switches, etc. Cattle guards. Railway bridges, trestles, viaducts, with models and drawings. Tunneling, with machinery, models, maps. Methods of constructing, lighting and ventilating tunnels. Turn-tables and transfer-tables. Water supply and machinery and fixtures used by railroads in connection therewith. Track tools. Systems of maintenance. Snow sheds and other protection against snow. General plans, elevations and models of stations and other railroad structures.
- Class 500. Railway equipment—locomotives for passenger and freight service. Locomotive appliances—headlights, bells, whistles, brake valves, car couplers and apparatus, etc. Plans, drawings and photographs of locomotives and locomotive shops. Passenger cars—mail, baggage and express coaches, drawing-room, parlor, dining, officers' and private cars, etc. Passenger car furnishings and appliances. Freight cars—box, caboose, stock, horse, milk, refrigerator and other varieties. Working cars—sweeping, ditching, wrecking, etc.; snow plows, hand, inspection, push and velocipede cars, baggage barrows and trucks. Freight car appliances of all descriptions. Plans, drawings and photographs of cars and car works.
- Class 501. Railway operation—purchasing department. Methods of purchasing, storing and distributing material and disposition of condemned material. Railway stationery. Mechanical department—organization. Records, plans and management of shops. Devices for coaling locomotives, etc. Testing laboratories. Machines, apparatus and methods of testing. General train management—dispatching, signaling, etc. Speed indicators and recorders. Interlocking switches and signals, block systems, etc. Crossing protection by gates, signals, etc. Wrecking tools and appliances. Plans of yards and methods of storing, cleaning and keeping cars. Car interchange and inspection. Systems of accounting, records, tracers. Railway employees—methods of testing for color-blindness, etc. Uniforms, organizations, etc. Railway sanitation and surgery and appliances used therein.
- Class 502. Railway management—legal department, treasury and accounting departments, passenger department. Advertising. Tickets, ticket cases, punches, baggage checks, etc. Freight department, methods of rate-making, soliciting, handling, billing, etc.; plans, arrangements and appliances for handling and hoisting of freight. Freight-handling machinery, track scales, apparatus for transferring grain from ear to car. Traffic associations, their objects, methods, etc.
- Class 503. History and statistics, exemplified by exhibits of old locomotives, cars, track material and other relics.—Railway law and legislation. Railway technical engineering and mechanical associations, Railway literature.

GROUP 81.

STREET CAR AND OTHER SHORT LINE SYSTEMS.

- Class 504. Cable roads and cars. Construction, equipment, methods of operation. Grips and other appliances.
- Class 505. Electric railway cars. Systems of track construction, equipment and supplies for electric roads, methods of operation, appliances and furnishings.
- Class 506. Cars for street railways or tramways operated by horse-power or other means of propulsion not specified. Construction. Equipment and supplies. Methods of operation.
- Class 507. Elevated and underground railways. Plans, models and maps, showing systems of construction. Systems of operation and maintenance.

GROUP 82.

MISCELLANEOUS AND SPECIAL RAILWAYS.

- Class 508. Mountain railways, spirals, switchbacks, rack rails and all systems for climbing inclines, ship railways, multiple speed railways (moving platforms and sidewalks), gravity roads, sliding railways, plans, profiles, drawings, photographs and models.

GROUP 83.

VEHICLES AND METHODS OF TRANSPORTATION ON COMMON ROADS.

- Class 509. Hand-barrows, wheel-barrows, trunk and barrel-trucks.
- Class 510. Carts, trucks, drays, farm wagons, garden truck wagons.
- Class 511. Freight wagons and other heavy wagons for special purposes, beer wagons, express wagons, wagons for moving heavy objects, as timbers, stone, iron, etc. Sprinkling carts. (For fire engines and ladder trucks see Group 70.)
- Class 512. Large wagons for pleasure parties, picnic parties and excursions, "breaks," "barges," "wagonettes," etc.
- Class 513. Omnibuses, herdies, cabs, hansoms, etc.
- Class 514. Drags, Concord leather spring coaches; mud wagons for mail; express and passenger service.
- Class 515. Pleasure carriages, coaches, Victorias, broughams, dog carts, etc.
- Class 516. Light pleasure carriages, buggies, phaetons, etc.; trotting wagons and sulkies.
- Class 517. Sleighs, sleds, cutters, toboggans, snowshoes, etc.
- Class 518. Steam and electric carriages, and all vehicles for carrying passengers on common roads operated by other than horse-power.
- Class 519. Ambulances for special purposes—for the sick and injured. Hearses.
- Class 520. Bicycles, tricycles and the appurtenances.
- Class 521. Rolling chairs for invalids and others, baby carriages, etc.
- Class 522. Wagon and carriage woodwork, hardware and fittings.
- Class 523. Harness, saddlery, robes, whips and accessories of the stable.

GROUP 84.

AERIAL, PNEUMATIC AND OTHER FORMS OF TRANSPORTATION.

- Class 524. Transportation of letters and parcels in pneumatic tubes.
- Class 525. Shop-fittings for the transportation of parcels and money.
- Class 526. Balloon transportation and captive balloons for observation and experiment.
- Class 527. Passenger elevators and lifts.

GROUP 85.

VESSELS, BOATS—MARINE, LAKE AND RIVER TRANSPORTATION.

- Class 528. Sailing vessels and boats. Sailing vessels used in commerce, pilot boats, fishing vessels, sailing yachts, ice boats, ship's boats, pleasure boats, canoes and small boats of all kinds propelled by sails, oars or paddles. Models, designs, drawings, descriptions, specifications, photographs, paintings, etc.
- Class 529. Steamships and all vessels propelled by steam, electricity or motive power.

- other than sails, oars or paddles. Ocean steamships, coasting, lake and river steamers. Tank steamers, cable steamers, steam pilot vessels, steam fishing vessels, steam fire, police and patrol boats, steam schooners, tow-boats, steam yachts, steam launches, naphtha launches; vessels designed for jet propulsion or to be propelled by any unusual device. Models, designs, etc.
- Class 530. Vessels, boats and floating structures for special purposes. Docks and other receptacles for vessels and structures used for docking or hauling out vessels or boats. Transports for carrying railway trains or cars, barges, canal boats; coal rafts and coal boxes; water boats, dredges, floating derricks, elevators, etc. Dry docks and marine railways. Models, designs, drawings, etc.
- Class 531. Marine mechanical appliances. (For nautical instruments see Group 151.) (For marine engines, boilers, pumps, condensers and appurtenances see Group 69.) Devices for propulsion, devices for obtaining forced draft, steam capstans, windlasses, deck winches, appliances to facilitate loading and discharging cargoes, steering apparatus; marine electric motors, electric indicators, engine room and bridge signal systems and apparatus; boat-lowering and detaching apparatus, speed indicators and speed registers, appliances for laying, picking up and repairing ocean telegraph cables, etc.
- Class 532. Construction, outfit, equipment and repair of vessels—methods, articles, fittings or appurtenances. Methods and materials used; special designs for hull or fittings; plates, cellulose, woodite, etc.; water-tight compartments, rudders, masts and spars, rigging; anchors, chains and cables; hawsers, ropes, cordage, wire rope, etc.; sails, blocks and tackles, oars, etc.
- Class 533. Methods of lighting, heating, ventilation and refrigeration of ships.
- Class 534. Protection of life and property and communication at sea. Harbors; light-houses; buoys and similar aids to navigation and all pertaining thereto; life-saving service, boats, rafts, belts, etc.; precautions against fire aboard ship and devices for extinguishing it; storm and coast signals; marine signals. Models, plans, samples, etc.
- Class 535. Wrecking apparatus. Sub-marine armor and divers' appliances, pontoons for raising vessels, equipment for wrecking-steamers, etc.
- Class 536. Miscellaneous. Trophies of yacht and boat clubs, relics of merchant marine and river transportation, relics of arctic and other exploration, seamen's associations, uniforms and designations of rank, flags and ensigns of merchant marine, yacht clubs, etc., designs, maps, charts, boats

DEPARTMENT OF MANUFACTURES.

Dimensions, 1,687 by 787 feet. Height of walls, 66 feet. Height of four center pavilions, 122 feet. Height of four corner pavilions, 97 feet. Height of roof over central hall, 237.6 feet. Height of roof-truss over central hall, 212.9 feet. Height clear, from the floor, 202.9 feet. Span of truss, 382 feet. Span in the clear, 354 feet. Width of truss at base, 14 feet; at hip, 32 feet; at apex, 10 feet. Weight of truss, 300,000 pounds; with purlines, 400,000 pounds. Ground area of building, 30.47 acres. Floor area, including galleries, 44 acres. Cost, $1,700,000. Material—17,000,000 feet of lumber; 12,000,000 pounds of steel in trusses of central hall; 2,000,000 pounds of iron in roof of nave. Architect, Geo. B. Post, of New York.

The building is rectangular in form, and the interior is divided into a great central hall, 890 by 1,290 feet, which is surrounded by a nave 107 feet wide. Both hall and nave have a 50-foot gallery extending entirely around them.

It is in the Corinthian style of architecture and in point of being severely classic excels most of the other large edifices. The long array of columns and arches which its facades present is relieved from monotony by the grand entrances, which are designed in the manner of triumphal arches, the central archway of each being 40 feet wide and 80 feet high. Surmounting these portals is the great attic story, ornamented with sculptured eagles 18 feet high, and on each side above the arches are great panels with inscriptions. The spandrels are filled with sculptured figures in bas-relief. At each corner of the main building are pavilions designed in harmony with the great portals.

The domes on either side of the main archways, eight in number, are magnificently decorated by leading American artists, the subjects being allegorical figures representing the arts and sciences. Extending all around the building is a spacious colonnade nearly a mile long, which looks out upon the lake or lagoon and forms a cool retreat for the tired sight-seers. The exterior of the building is covered with staff, which is treated to represent marble, and the columns and window arches are apparently of this material.

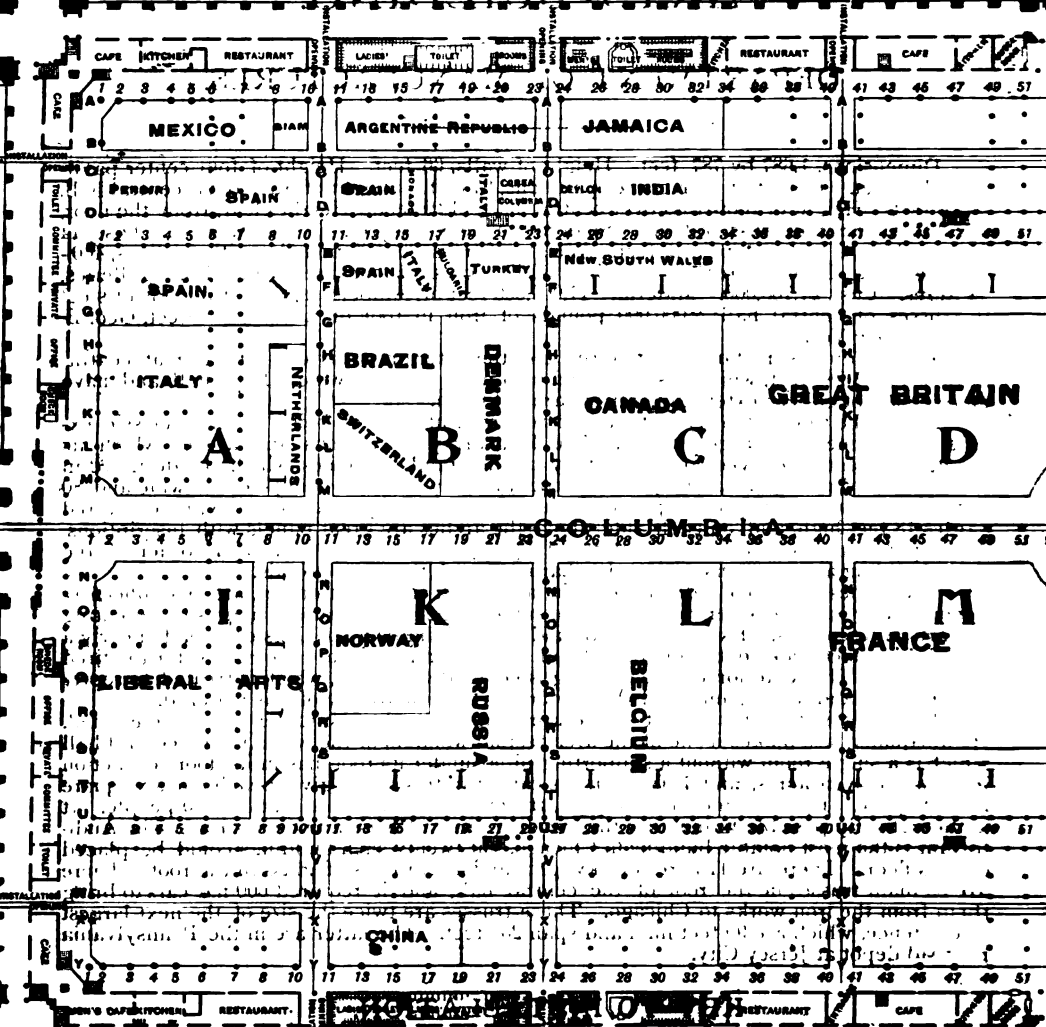

This building is the largest in the world, and is the largest under roof ever erected. Its unequalled size makes it one of the architectural wonders of the world. The central hall, which is a single room without a supporting pillar under its roof, has in its floor a fraction less than eleven acres, and 75,000 persons can sit in this room, giving each one six square feet of space. By the same arrangement, the entire building will seat 300,000 people. It is theoretically possible to mobilize the standing army of Russia under its roof. The Auditorium is the most notable building in Chicago, but twenty such buildings could be placed on this floor. There are 11 acres of skylights and 40 carloads of glass in the roof. There are 22 main trusses in the roof of the central hall, and it required 600 flat cars to bring them from the iron works to Chicago. These trusses are twice the size of the next largest in existence, which are 90 feet high and span 250 feet. The latter are in the Pennsylvania railroad depot at Jersey City.

KEY TO INSTALLATION.

The Department of Manufactures occupies all of the ground floor of the building, except Section I, in the southeast corner, which is occupied by the Department of Liberal Arts. The Manufactures department also occupies gallery, Sections F and G. The main floor is divided into sixteen sections, lettered from A to Q, and each section is divided into four blocks, numbered from 1 to 4, except Sections A, I, H and Q, which have three blocks. By consulting the ground plan in this catalogue these floor divisions can be located. The exhibits in manufactures are installed by classified groups, collectively, and the location of each group is indicated under the group head in the catalogue. For example, all the exhibits of jewelry, embraced in Group 98, are installed in Section N, Block 1. All silk goods, classified as Group 100, are in Section O, Block 1. The location of the foreign countries is indicated under their entries in the catalogue.

How to Find Exhibitors and Their Exhibits.

The list of exhibitors from the United States will be found in the first portion of this catalogue, the foreign countries with their exhibits installed in Manufactures Building following in alphabetical order. Each country has its exhibits numbered consecutively, and as far as practicable each exhibit has a card attached to it bearing the name of the country and the words "Official Catalogue Number" and that number corresponds with the number in this Catalogue. For example, if a card is found with the following matter thereon:

Department H.                      Manufactures.
United States.

Official Catalogue Number 162.

the visitor will turn to 162 in the United States portion of the Catalogue where will be found the following entry:

162. Herts Brothers, New York. Furniture decorations and draperies. N-2 572

It may be that the visitor's attention is first directed to the Catalogue and he may be desirous of finding this exhibit. The first thing he should do is to see what the location is. That being N-2 he will refer to the Key to Installation, which states that the main floor of the Manufactures Building is divided into sixteen sections, lettered from A to Q, and that each section is divided into four blocks, numbered from 1 to 4, except Sections A, I, H and Q, which have three blocks. The exhibits in Manufactures are installed by classified groups, collectively, and the location of each group is indicated under the group head in the catalogue. It will thus be seen that the exhibit of Herts Brothers will be found in section N, block 2, which is situated on the east side of the building.

The class number 572 serves many purposes, and one especially. A visitor, for instance, would like to see the exhibits of furniture, upholstery and artistic decorations in Manufactures Building. He immediately refers to the classification grouping, where he will read in group 90, class 572, the following: "Artistic furnishing, illustrated by completely furnished apartments, with selections of furniture and various objects of adornment from other groups." He then turns to the list of exhibitors under group 90 and by glancing down the right hand side for 572 finds all exhibitors alphabetically arranged who are exhibiting furniture decorations and other articles enumerated in that class.

This rule applies to every exhibit in the Manufactures Department, whatever its character may be, and by following the above plan the visitor will experience no difficulty in locating the exhibitor or his exhibit.

ELECTRICITY BUILDING.

Electricity Building carries out the Spanish renaissance idea, modified by a Corinthian. It is 345 feet wide and 700 feet long. The general scheme of the plan is longitudinal nave 115 feet wide and 114 feet high, crossed in the middle of the same width and height.

The walls are composed of a continuous Corinthian order of pilasters, 3 feet and 42 feet high, supporting a full entablature and resting upon a stylobate. The total height of the walls from the grade outside is 68 feet 6 inches. At four corners of the building is a pavilion, above which rises an open tower

The building has an open portico along the whole of the south facade, the lower opening being an open screen in front of it. The various subordinate pavilions are windows and balconies. The details of the exterior orders are richly decorated with pediments, friezes, panels and spandrels have received a decoration of figures and architectural motifs, the general tendency of which is to illustrate the purpose of the building. In the hemicycle on the south front stands the fine statue of Franklin.

The finish of the exterior is that of marble, but the walls of the hemicycle and porticoes and loggias are highly enriched with color, the pilasters in these decorated with scagliola, and the capitals with metallic effects in bronze. The large window spaces and high central and corner towers is especially adapted for electrical illumination by night, and considered as part of this display are electric fountains which show their magic splendors at the head of the basin in front of the building. The architects of the Electricity Building are Van Brunt & Co., New York City.

KEY TO INSTALLATION.

For the purpose of the installation of exhibits, the Electricity Building is divided into sections from "A" to "Z." On the main floor the sections are lettered from "A" to "Z." The gallery floor from "R" to "Z." The sections are divided into exhibit spaces, numbered, and in some instances are subdivided when the exhibit space is designated by a letter, as for example, U-13-b. By consulting the floor plan in the sections can be easily located. The location of exhibits are indicated in the sections by a letter and a number. For example, "V-5" means that the exhibit is in the gallery, and exhibit space 5.

- Class B. Apparatus for transmission of power to electrical generators (steam, compressed air, turbine oil friction, gearing, belting, etc., etc.).
- Class C. Process of electro-engraving.
- Class D. Carbon and its application.
- Class G. Metals and their application in the construction of electrical apparatus.
- Class H. The kinetograph.
- Class J. Direct couple engine dynamos.
- Class K. Electric lubricators.
- Class L. Application of electricity in testing and aging liquors.
- Class M. Electric tanning.

to Find Exhibitors and Their Exhibits.

exhibitors from the United States will be found in the first portion of this foreign countries with their exhibits installed in Electricity Building alphabetical order. Each country has its exhibits numbered consecutively, and each exhibit has a card attached to it bearing the name of the words "Official Catalogue Number," and that number corresponds with the Catalogue. For example, if a card is found with the following matter

Department of Electricity.
United States.

Official Catalogue Number 103

turn to 103 in the United States portion of the Catalogue where will be the entry:

103. Brixey, W. R., New York.

Wires, cables. T-2 769.

When the visitor's attention is first directed to the Catalogue and he may be shown this exhibit. The first thing he should do is to see what the location is. He will refer to the Key to Installation, which states that the Electricity Building is divided into sections, lettered from "A" to "Z." The sections on the main floor are lettered from "A" to "Q" and those on the gallery floor from "R" to "Z." These sections are divided into exhibit spaces which are numbered and in some instances are designated by the addition of a letter, as for example, exhibit therefore of W. R. Brixey will be found on the gallery floor in section 2.

Number 769 serves many purposes, and one especially. A visitor, for instance, to see all the exhibits of wires and cables in Electricity Building. He goes to the classification grouping, where he will read in group 126, class 769,

Cables, wires and insulation; rheostats, switches, indicators, registering instruments, voltmeters. He immediately turns to the list of exhibitors under group 769 and finds all exhibitors alphabetically exhibiting wires and cables and other articles enumerated in that class.

It applies to every exhibit in the Electricity Building, whatever its character. Following the above plan the visitor will experience no difficulty in locating his exhibit.

It should be paid to any numbers which may be affixed to exhibits except on cards in the form given above.

In Ionic style, the Fine Arts Building is a pure type of the most refined structure. The structure comprises three large pavilions known as the Central, East Pavilion. Its total length, east and west, is 1,120 feet, and its extreme width, north and south, 500 feet. The Central Pavilion, an oblong building measuring 100 feet wide and 70 feet high, is intersected by a great nave and a transept, each 100 feet wide and 70 feet high. At the intersection is a dome 60 feet in diameter and 125 feet high, surmounted by the figure of the type of the famous figure of Winged Victory. The transept has a width of 60 feet, being lighted entirely from above. On either side of the transept are 20 feet wide and 24 feet above the floor. The collections of sculptures and casts are displayed on the main floor of the nave and transept, and here also are shown drawings and sculptured panels in relief. The sections of the nave and the transept are filled with picture galleries, ranging from 30x30 feet in area. The Central Pavilion is entered by four great portals, richly decorated with architectural sculpture and approached by broad flights of steps. The East Pavilions have entrances from the Central Pavilion and on their north and south. The walls of the loggia of the colonnades are highly decorated with sculptural work in the antique. All light is supplied through glass skylights in iron frames. The building is located in the northern portion of the park, with the south front facing the lagoon from which it is separated by terraces ornamented with balustrades. A flight of steps leads down from the main portal to the lagoon, where there is a landing for boats. The neighborhood of the building is ornamented with groups of statues, replicas such as the Choric monument, etc. Architect, C. B. Atwood, of Chicago, Chief of the Exposition.
